On the noticeboard is one of the patient power systems which is currently being installed in hospitals. I have heard nothing from the trust as to which one we are likely to get. The press cutting on the wall was recently highlighted in the daily express. it's their for your info. but possibly is not the one we will get.

Station Automation 24 hour service

On Saturday 22June We will visiting Bath Hospital radio who have been operating the software program for the last two years. It is hoped we can learn a few ideas from them Bath recently won hospital radio of the year award.

On the 20th July we are going to Redhill in Surrey. They broadcast on LPAM and have been using the software for just over a year. Both stations have approached the 24 hr service in different styles. We intend to take a little of each and apply to our set-up.
