Hi Guys & Girls
Some news for you this week:-

New Recruits

David has interviewed three new recruits today and they will be starting as follows. Chris Pritchard to Mondays starting 16th, also Amy Addison. On Wednesday 11th Elizabeth Scott (Known as Whizz to her Friends) will be joining.. Two of the recruits found us via the internet. I'm sure you will make them feel most welcome. I will have contact details available shortly.

Rhapsody Progress

The computers were ordered this week and will be delivered on 21st December. The cheque for the software has been paid yesterday. The Sunninghill Fuel Allotment Trust have paid the balance of the funding into our account. In addition the Ascot Fire Brigade Trust have also paid the full amount into our account.

They have obviously done a u-turn on how we were to be paid. I think they realized that they would be bombarded with separate invoices and that this would delay the project. I'm pleased they have done this because it means as and when we need to purchase it I haven't got to keep getting pro-forma invoices and then forwarding them on .

Watch out for emails from Matt on program inserts etc.

Trainspotters Club

A big thankyou to all those who turned up Thursday for the drink. It was nice to meet some of you socially and I'm sure we all got something out of it. Laraine couldn't make it because she's across the pond at the moment but I managed to give Matthew a kiss on your behalf (Yuk).

Missing CD

Please check your bags cd 354 has gone missing artist Sting.

Patient Power

It looks like work has commenced on the installation of some of the cables for the system. All the main manholes are open and cables are in evidence.
