Hi Guys
Some news For You

Left

Chris Pritchard on Mondays has left he is moving from the area. please remove his details from your email address books.

West Country Invasion

That well known slade fan returned on Saturday and paid us a visit, judging by his words about his hospital radio I'll think I'll stay with mine at least we have two studio's. It was nice to see Bruce again shame about the fungus around his face.

Sylvia's badge

Check your bags to see if you have picked up Sylvia's id badge now I know some of you have been impersonating sylv but a joke is a joke lets have it back !!!

Rhapsody

The move towards Rhapsody took a step nearer today when both studio's now have the computer's fitted. Apart from devising some training notes. It should be full steam ahead. You cannot use the computers yet, until the training has been completed .

Please exercise caution when working around the console, don't drop anything on the keyboards, they cost £50 ea.

No presenter will get their training during live programs all training will be off air.

Training

It is planned that the first training session will be Thursday 13th February 7pm till 10pm. A member from each night, who is going to take on board the lead role will be invited along for the sessions. The champion for each night will be responsible to see that each night's presenters are fully aware of how the system will be of benefit to them.

The first training session will cover Turning/logging the computer on & off, Using Wavecart in your programs and Cooledit how it links into the mixer and how we can record onto the hard disk. Both Studio's will be available on the training nights Working in pairs for each night to gain hands on.

All of the new functions and tasks we all have to come to terms with, will take some time to master we don't expect people to take it all in one go. We will be drip feeding new information via appendixes to the training notes that you will all receive.

FAQ

It would be nice if we can build up a faq list of questions which you can use to refer too, if you ever get stuck with something. Get your thinking caps on.

That's all for now

Message for Matt:- The envelope on the table which came through our door, can you chuck in the post on one of the wards when you go round on Monday. It's not for us.

Regards

Peter J Davidson-Smith
