Hi Guys & Girls
Some news etc.

Countdown to Rhapsody

This week in your programs don't forget that Rhapsody launches on Saturday and the new program schedule comes into play from Midday Saturday.

The program schedule leaflets are in the production area, but don't issue them until Wednesday.

There is a task to be carried out by someone to ensure the leaflets are distributed to every ward locker/ward between Wednesday - Saturday Morning, Any Takers.

Studio Temperature

As you know the warm weather has finally arrived and the studio's have turned into a sauna. Reminders for keeping you cool.

Open all windows-Keep Curtains Drawn to prevent sun beating through the windows.
Turn Off all un-necessary lights.
Prop door open, if you are in reception.

Rhapsody Additions

This week I have added over 80 poems to the spoken word category, which are read by people like Judi Dench and Michael Williams.

Patient Information trailers have two types of music background.

Thankyou

This Saturday the radio station will take a quantum leap into a new era in it's broadcasting hours. Not since the introduction of the medium wave service, has the station undertaken such a radical change.

The future for the patients look's bright as we move into developing the new service. Whilst we have been working to be ready for this date, it's not the end of the story. Over the coming month's/years we will fine tune what we have and the rewards for the station/presenter/league will make us all, very proud to be a part of the station.

On our road to Rhapsody we are all learning new skills in program production, editing, computing, and awareness in styles of music. These skills have already had an effect on our presentation and quality of output.

The launch program schedule has exceeded my expectations, during the Sunday evening there will be two programs on the schedule which have been properly voice tracked. For all of us over the coming months the challenge will be to increase that number substantially.

At this point I would like to Thank each and everyone for their contribution towards Rhapsody. Thanks to Laraine for coming up with the name, Thanks to John Murphy for the program schedule, Thanks to Matt for all the extra hours in assisting with the training. Thanks to Dave for all the CD Ripping, and a big thankyou to all for the contribution of the liners.

In the words of Mr Grace From Grace Brothers " You Have All Done Very Well "

Regards
