Hi Guys

Just to let you know the computer in the library is now ready to use. Attached to this email some appendix for the music library program.

The software has also been added to the studio machines as a backup. If you find you couldn't use the library computer you can launch the program in studio 1 or 2. I wouldn't advocate you use this all the time as the layout of the screen has been designed around 1000 x760. The studio machines are 800x600. The picture is squashed and not easy on the eye.
