Hi Guys

A nice little surprise for us today.

Went on ward rounds today armed with our new posters for the wards and a nice letter to the ward staff from my role as League secretary explaining the two copies of the radio posters which cost us 75p each to produce. 30 copies in all.

Guess what Hospicom have changed the screen layouts and also how you access the hospital radio.(??????)Comment removed

The posters and the green leaflets we issue to patients are useless.
From what I can remember, the process is now

- 1.Press the icon marked radio
- 2 A screen is displayed which tells them they need headphones. Press Continue
- 3 A number of icons down the left hand side of the screen. The first icon says hospital radio Press
- 4 This then briefly shows at the bottom of the screen Radio Heatherwood.

The patient has a blank screen showing, The timer display when loading no longer shows.

In addition their own leaflets on the wards do not show the change to the new layouts.

What other surprises are they going to dump on us ?

As you can imagine I am Comment removed with these idiots.

Regards
